Oxford County Fair

Good Weather -- Largest Displays in Years.

Usual Attendance Tuesday. Crowd about 25 per cent. below normal on Wednesday and Small on Thursday. Society probably will face a deficit.

Baseball

Fans Treated to Real Stuff

The 90th exhibition of Oxford County Agricultural Society, Sept. 13, 14, 15, was one of the best shows. There was an abundance of live stock and poultry, and every department in the exhibition hall was crisscrossed with wonderful things. Good races, exciting pulling, a crowded midway, three fast ball games, a circus for a few attractions, and fireworks made a program suitable for all tastes.

But the usual middle day crowd was not there. Heavy mist during the early hours threatened rain, but the sun burned through about noon. There was a marked increase in the gate during the afternoon and by evening something like a normal crowd had gathered.

The fair played to a light house, on Thursday, in spite of ideal weather. Midway attractions felt the pinch of poor attendance, but the club and the team of Runford, Mechanic Falls, Livemore Falls, Lewiston, Portland and Norway-Paris were represented in the lineup.

On Wednesday, the All-Stars slugged a decided defeat on the Giants and played errorless baseball with George Foster of Runford in the box. Score was 7 to 2. Plummer led the entire field with the stick and garnered four hits on five times up, besides recording three runs. Foster had a splendid day in the box and whiffed eleven, four dropping in a row. A running account was broadcast by C. Guy Buck and Faunce Pendexter in the judges' stand and fans back in the crowd easily followed the plays.

Giants won 10 to 2. Stars won 7 to 3. In the 11th inning, Tucker hit 2, Johnson smart 2, Roach hit 3 in 4-3 innings. Base on balls, 6 to 3 in 4-3 innings. Hit by pitcher, 1 to 0. Umpire, Fogg. Time, 2:15.

In the midway were a few local vendors. "Bill Brown's Place" was a booth where real hot dogs were served by Billy Brown, Ken Goodwin and Burdette Burnell, all of Norway. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richardson of Norway served lunches, etc., in a well kept tent. They have followed the fair for eight years, and put out good stuff. Frank Hobbs, of bidland fame, had the exclusive on hot dogs and soft drinks around the circus lot. He was stationed under the vaudeville stage.

Mr. William Judkins and Mrs. John Judkins of South Paris kept open house in a booth near the main gate. Eddie Gammon and sons, of Norway, operated a roll down bowling game in the midway. Times have changed since the "Eddie Gammon" was a question of a few years ago, but he had a good run for full times.

Mr. Ensign George Winsor, in charge of the local corps in the Salvation Army at Lewiston, solicited funds Thursday. The free will offering will be used to extend Army work among the poor. "Our resources are small now days," she said, "and I have fed many from my own table, not having Army funds to meet the calls. It means less for me and my husband and I force have children of our own to clothe and educate, besides, our joint salary is not large."

Pulling Horses and Cattle

Many Exciting Contests

The sport opened Tuesday afternoon with a good crowd hanging over the rails watching four exciting contests. Pulling horses, 3,000 and under brought out a field of five pairs while oxen and steers in three classes were 7 feet, 6 inches, 6 feet, 10 inches, and 6 feet and under.

Ernest H. Dyer of Portland, State Humane Agent, and his deputy, Harry O. Stinson of Norway watched for unnecessary roughness in handling horses and cattle.

The card was finished about 6:30 and declared a good program for the first day.

Cattle Departments Crowded

Large Variety and Some Fine Animals

Every stall in the cattle sheds was occupied and two tents with a total length of 200 ft. were required to shelter the overflow. Many years have passed since so large a number have been entered and exhibited. Nearly 300 animals from the State fair and about 150 more head came from stock and dairy farms not represented at Lewiston.

Summarizing the entries, the following list will show the breeds and the wide territory which furnished the excellent display:

Jerseys, C. R. King, South Paris; C. E. and A. J. Luce, Farmington. Milking Shorthorns, Henry J. Wheelwright, Bangor.

Brown Swisses, C. A. Flint, Norway; C. E. Robinson, Livermore Falls. Beef Shorthorns, H. A. Whitman, Buckfield.

Herefords, Dr. E. E. Bubier, Wilton; Warren S. Abbott, Ramford; L. P. Brown & Son, Norway; Leroy J. Abbott, West Paris.

Milking Shorthorns, Leslie Millett, Norway; Lester N. Hobbs, Acton; Henry J. Wheelwright, Bangor; Felix Farm, Litchfield; P. O. Berry & Son, Litchfield.

Dutch Belts, L. N. Hobbs, Acton; J. A. Wilson, Brunswick. Ayrshires, J. E. Purinton, Litchfield; E. E. Field & Son, Greene.

Holsteins, As. D. Cummings, South Paris; L. A. Kyes, North Jay; John D. Grover, North Lovell; Harry B. McKee, North Lovell.

Guernseys, Miss Dorothy Richards, Tanworth Farm, Ellsworth. Entered in the various classes were the pulling teams of Mark Twitchell, Bolster's Mills; L. L. Hawkes, Cumberland Center; Seamon & Williams, Topsham; Elmer J. Thomas, Harrison; Cunningham & Allard, Jefferson; Kenneth A. Leonard, Bangor; Roger S. Bracon, North Berwick; C. L. C. A. Flint's twenty head of purebred Brown Swisses from Lake Ridge Farm, Norway Lake, was headed by the sire College Boy Surprise, weighing 2100 pounds. Mr. Flint has sold two bulls to the J. P. Morgan farms and receives good money for his stock. He started this breed a few years ago and has developed a nice herd.

Sumner Farm, A. D. Cummings, proprietor, had sixteen head of prize Holsteins familiar to all fair patrons who appreciate neat stock.

One of the largest exhibits was the Dutch Belts of L. N. Hobbs of Milton Mills, N. H. There were twenty-five head of the shorthorns under Hobbs, Valley Farm, J. A. Wilson, proprietor, Brunswick, had a nice herd of Dutch Belts from the bull down the scale of ages to a calf only a few weeks old.

EAST SUMNER

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Tuttle enjoyed a visit of a few days from Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bowker of South Paris. Mrs. Bowker is some better.

George Spaulding is building a new hen house. His mother, Mrs. Lilla White, sister of New Hampshire is visiting him for a while.

Charles Tuttle is some better of his lameness. Morrill school opened Monday, the 12th. Leil Poland is carrying the scholars on the east side.

Mrs. Ella Woodward of Livermore Falls called on Mrs. C. B. Tuttle last Sunday.

HARBOR

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burgess and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reader of Mattapan, Mass., were guests at Benson's over the week end.

Robert Benson has a dog, the gift from his grandfather. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stanley called on Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Stapley, Lovell, Sunday afternoon.

Picking cucumbers and corn has kept folks busy. Raising cucumbers for the pickle market has been a success. Miss Fairbanks arrived Saturday and began school Monday.

The academy students returned Tuesday. Miss Hazel Emery of Waterville is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Will Thompson.

Schools began Monday, the 12th. We had a bad freeze in this vicinity, Saturday night, which spoiled all the garden stuff.

Charlie Bean has been helping Ben Durgin get his meadow hay the past week. Frank Ballard and Jack Morrison have been picking corn for Carroll Haley at West Fryeburg, the past week.

Daniel Smith has been working at Brownfield for a few days. Mrs. Leland Wilson and three children and Vernon Brown of Center Lovell called on her sister, Mrs. Nelson Bartlett, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Foster and son of Bridgton were guests of her sister, Mrs. Jack Cadman, Sunday. Orvie Howard has been hauling husks from the corn shop.

Callers at E. N. Bartlett's, Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kenney and son, Edward of Gorham, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Locke and Mrs. B. A. Prouty of Fryeburg.

MR. FINNEY'S CAR

Mr. Finney bought an auto and he named it Henry Ford. And the parts of his machine. He knew from top to bottom. He knew just what each part was for. For he had been to the movies. And when they make a brand new car. He fills the car with hard gears. But when he tries to assemble it. His pleasure then begin to cease.

He finally gets it together. And the parts fit fairly well. But why he runs the car no longer. He hardly dare to tell. For if I should, my word you would doubt. For if I should, I blame you if you did. But this miracle I'll tell to you. And in place of a car what he had instead.

And in place of a car what he had instead. He looks at it and grins and smiles. For his smile is very shallow. For his smile is very shallow. For his smile is very shallow. For his smile is very shallow.

But instead, only CLAUDE CUSHMAN.

Observed Along the Way

Changes in Eating House Row—Familiar Faces and New Additions

Two landmarks have disappeared from Eating House Row, namely the buildings near the main entrance corner of the exhibition hall. One was occupied by the Ladies Circle of the South Paris Congregational church, the other was the place where the Norway Congregational women served the public. Both were popular places for nearly half a century. Changing conditions with the advent of auto lunches, scores of hot dog stands, and other competitors, all cut down profits and finally closed the places. There was too much work for the money, especially during a time when ingredients were high and help scarce.

Skeetop, the veteran basket vendor, has crossed the Great Divide and will no more occupy his accustomed place in the hall. He died about a month ago in his home at West Seaboard, where he was in failing health. His wife had the same space and carried on the business of selling sweet grass baskets. Skeetop had been at this fair at least forty years. As his purposes developed into brasses and squares they worked on the highway as fortune tellers, or sold baskets and bows. The "inlaws" also followed the chase and grandchilden are now on the road, but too young to enter the bread winning game. The past few years Skeetop and his family, during the fair, camped in wigwams below the cattle sheds and prepared their meals over an open fire, too to tribal instincts.

William Kerrigan of Portland, dealer in soft drinks, smokes, etc., has his spot as usual. He represents the old timers, although not beyond middle age. His father, John Kerrigan, made a start here when the fair was the one-king and sold oranges. Stoves hauled from Portland in single horse rigs. William, then in dresses, accompanied his father and naturally picked up the business as time passed. John died years ago, but he remains in the memory of the older generation closely connected with the midway folk every September.

Richard J. Coleman, better known as "Dick", and one of the big three at the head of Coleman Bros. Shows, was laid up here. Blood poison in his left foot near the big toe required the professional services of Dr. Johnson, traveling with the show. Dick is a bundle of energy and laying off the job was not to his liking. The doctor gave orders he kept, but there was much to be done and he frequently broke training rules and attended to some detail. Probably you saw a well dressed chap gamely hobbling about the midway, that was Dick.

George Smith, the Norway blacksmith, had a portable shop in a tent where he looked after the footwear of the light harness racers. He has followed the horsemen the past summer and will keep up with the hits until the final curtain is rung down.

Llewellyn Smith of Oxford had a busy season after taking the string owned by his son from summer training to fair fare away as Canada. They met with fairly good winnings.

That miniature chair-plane was a safe amusement for the kiddies. It was new here and proved a boon for little people not quite large enough for more strenuous excitement. It was a happy thought of Helen J. Coleman that provided this joy for the youngest patrons.

HEBRON REGISTRATION IS OFF ONE-FOURTH

Hebron Academy opened for the fall term with registration about seventy-five per cent of normal. As additional registrations are expected, evidence points to a student body about as large as last year. The greater number of boys registering are from Maine and Massachusetts, with all New England States well represented, and other from farther south and as far west as Ohio.

Two new instructors appear on the faculty, Elton S. Kitchen, in the department of mathematics, and Manning Hawthorne in the department of English.

FRYEBURG—TOLL BRIDGE

Mrs. Frank Hill had an ill turn one day last week. A doctor was called. Mrs. Ella McAllister worked in the North Fryeburg corn shop, Sunday, so that her sister-in-law, Mrs. Josephine McAllister could visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Learned, at South Waterford.

Joseph Buzzell, since he became of voting age has never missed a September or November election, voting the Republican ticket. Mr. Buzzell was eighty-two in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McAllister of Locke Mills were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. McAllister. Harris Twombly of Conway, Mr. and Mrs. L. Flint of Fryeburg were recent callers of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Gage. School opened Sept. 12 with one new scholar, Carlton McAllister.

Allan Fraser came home, Sept. 9 to help Kenneth Fraser pick corn; he brought a full blooded colts puppy. Halbert, Harold and Roland McAllister, Fred Holt, 2nd, and L. V. Gage helped E. C. Buzzell & Son pick sweet corn this week.

NORWAY LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Priestly of Bridgton were Sunday callers at Virgil Flood's. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dunham and daughter, Esther, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Banks at Auburn.

Helen Dulles at home for a weeks vacation from Farrington's Camps, Center Lovell. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Healey and daughters, Frances and Mary, spent the week end in Portland.

Daniel Dulles and son, Dennis, were at home from Biddeford, Sunday. Donald Wood has finished work at the filling station.

Ruth Stiles of New York is spending her vacation at the home of her uncle, Wilbur M. Tucker. Robley H. Morrison left Tuesday morning for Orono, where he will enter the University of Maine.

James B. Frost and daughters, Mrs. Lillian Adams, Mrs. Walter C. Smith and Mrs. Harry M. Goodwin spent one day last week at District. Winslow Wood of Winthrop is visiting at his brother's, John Wood's.

SWEDEN

George Durgin of Gorham and Edith Sawyer of Cumberland Mills spent the week end with his sister, Mrs. E. S. Plummer and Sunday, Sept. 4, they attended the Gammon reunion in Stoneham.

N. N. Holden and wife and Liston Brown of Norway called on Enfield Plummer and wife, Sunday afternoon. There were eighteen callers at Plummer's, Sunday, Sept. 11.

Mrs. R. W. Caverly and son, Donald, and Miss Barbara Witter of Swampscott, Mass., are at their summer home in Sweden for a short vacation. They left Monday, Sept. 12, for Quebec on a four day trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Tifts and little son, Robert, of Mechanic Falls, Mrs. Ina Viner of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Ralph Perkins of South Paris visited their cousin, Mrs. B. S. Plummer last Friday.

Richard Box of Norway has returned to his home after spending a two weeks vacation at Wendell Plummer's camp in Sweden.

COUNTY-WIDE DAIRY MEETING AT SOUTH PARIS, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30

An unusually good program has been arranged for the dairy meeting to be held at the South Paris Grange Hall on September 30, two weeks from next Friday.

The Dairy Record Club of Oxford County with members in nearly every community, has arranged for their first meeting, a discussion of the various phases of pasture improvement, under the leadership of Harold J. Shaw, Sanford, Shaw, who is a former county agent, is also one of the outstanding Holstein breeders of New England whose managing ability has enabled him to make the necessary adjustments in methods to meet changing values.

The meeting will be held during the afternoon. Members of the club will elect officers and discuss prospects for enlarging on their present group of forty.

EAST FRYEBURG

Rev. John Poland of Braintree, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Wodehouse of New Jersey, Mr. and Mrs. John Lyon of Waltham, Mass., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Douglas during the holiday week. Jessie and Dwight Rose have gone to Denmark high school.

Mrs. Jamie Stevens had her two sons from Massachusetts as guests over the week end.

Have you anything to sell? Tell the world through the Intelligence Column in this paper. Three insertions of 25 words or less, 50c and 10c per week thereafter.

EIDER DUCKS CAN BE SHOT THIS SEASON

Eider Ducks, on the banned list for some years, may be legally shot in Maine this coming duck season.

The inland fisheries and game department placed them among birds that may be shot during the Oct. 16 to Dec. 15 open season.

A closed season was declared on them a number of years ago mainly because of their wholesale slaughter for their exceptionally soft breast feathers. The daily limit on eider ducks is five.

Wood duck remain on the closed list. Wilson shrike and Jacksnipe may be shot starting Oct. 1 and continuing until Dec. 31. The season on rails and gallinules opened Sept. 1 and closes Nov. 30. Woodcock may be shot from Oct. 1 to Oct. 31, and partridge from Oct. 1 to Nov. 9.

The duck season's opening date, Oct. 16, falls on a Sunday. No hunting is permitted on Sundays, so shooting will have to be deferred until the next day.

None of the game birds, except partridge may be hunted the opening day before 12 o'clock noon. This order was made with the hope that the ducks would have a better chance to see their danger. It used to be legal to start shooting at ducks a half hour before sunrise the opening day, and hunters made big killings during the dim light at that time.
